Book-inspired
Districts from the books

A world pieced together from the books. The Capitol lies in the Rockies; District 12 is in Appalachia. The coastline and other district positions are our interpretation—not confirmed borders.

PANEM

THE DISTRICTS

A book-inspired atlas of a nation built on the ruins of North America.

09 Grain	10 Livestock	11 Agriculture	12 Coal mining

Reading the map. The Capitol's Rocky Mountain setting and District 12's Appalachian setting come from the books. All other placements and the altered coastline are speculative. No precise district boundaries are claimed.

Beyond the twelve: District 13 — graphite and nuclear technology. Its position here is illustrative; it is not one of the twelve district cards.

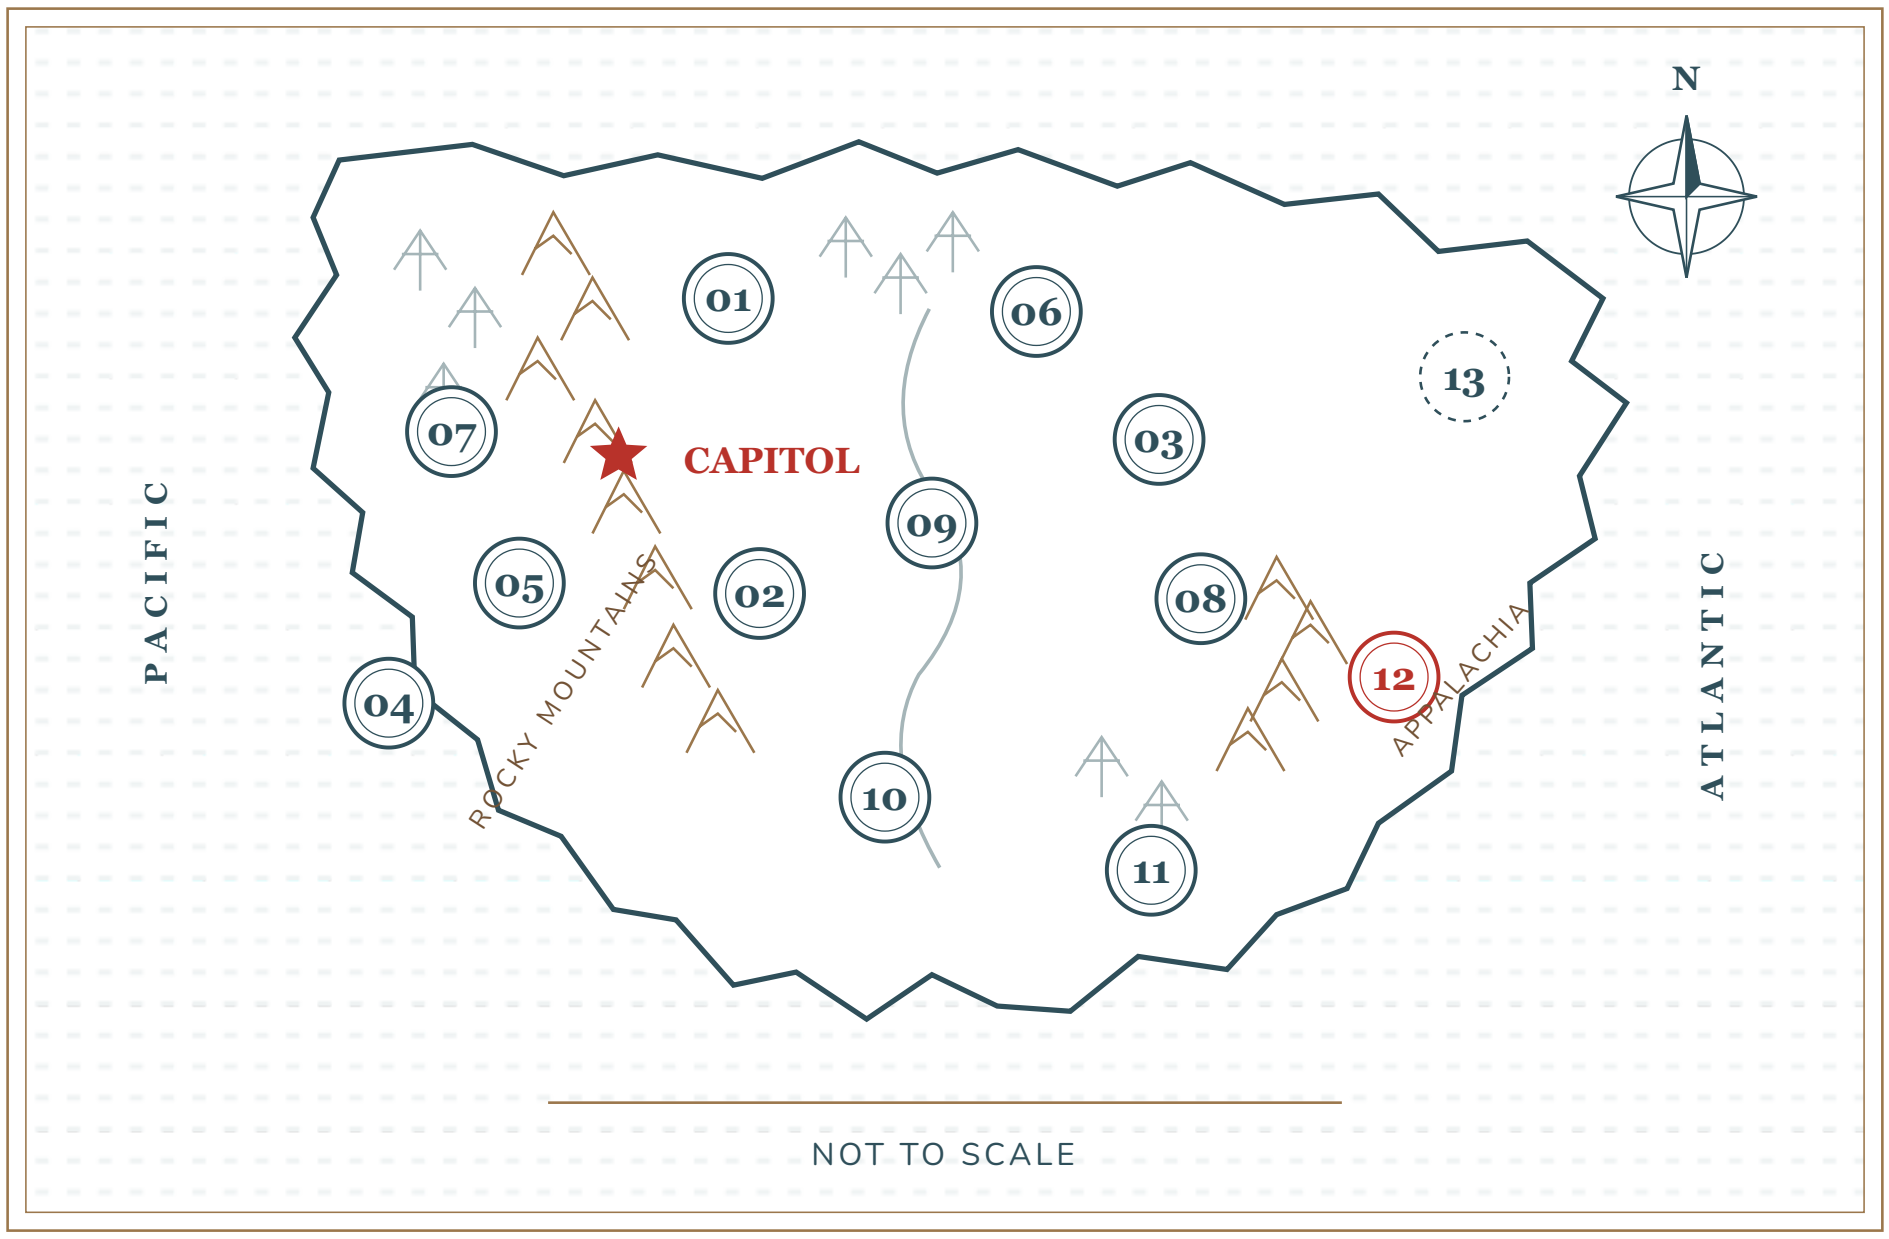

Industry labels describe Panem before the end of the original trilogy. Contains a District 13 spoiler.

Not to scale. The Capitol is in the Rocky Mountains; District 12 is in Appalachia. All other placements and the coastline are speculative, not confirmed borders.
Beyond the twelve: District 13 — graphite and nuclear technology. Its dashed marker is illustrative. Book spoilers; pre-end-of-trilogy industries.

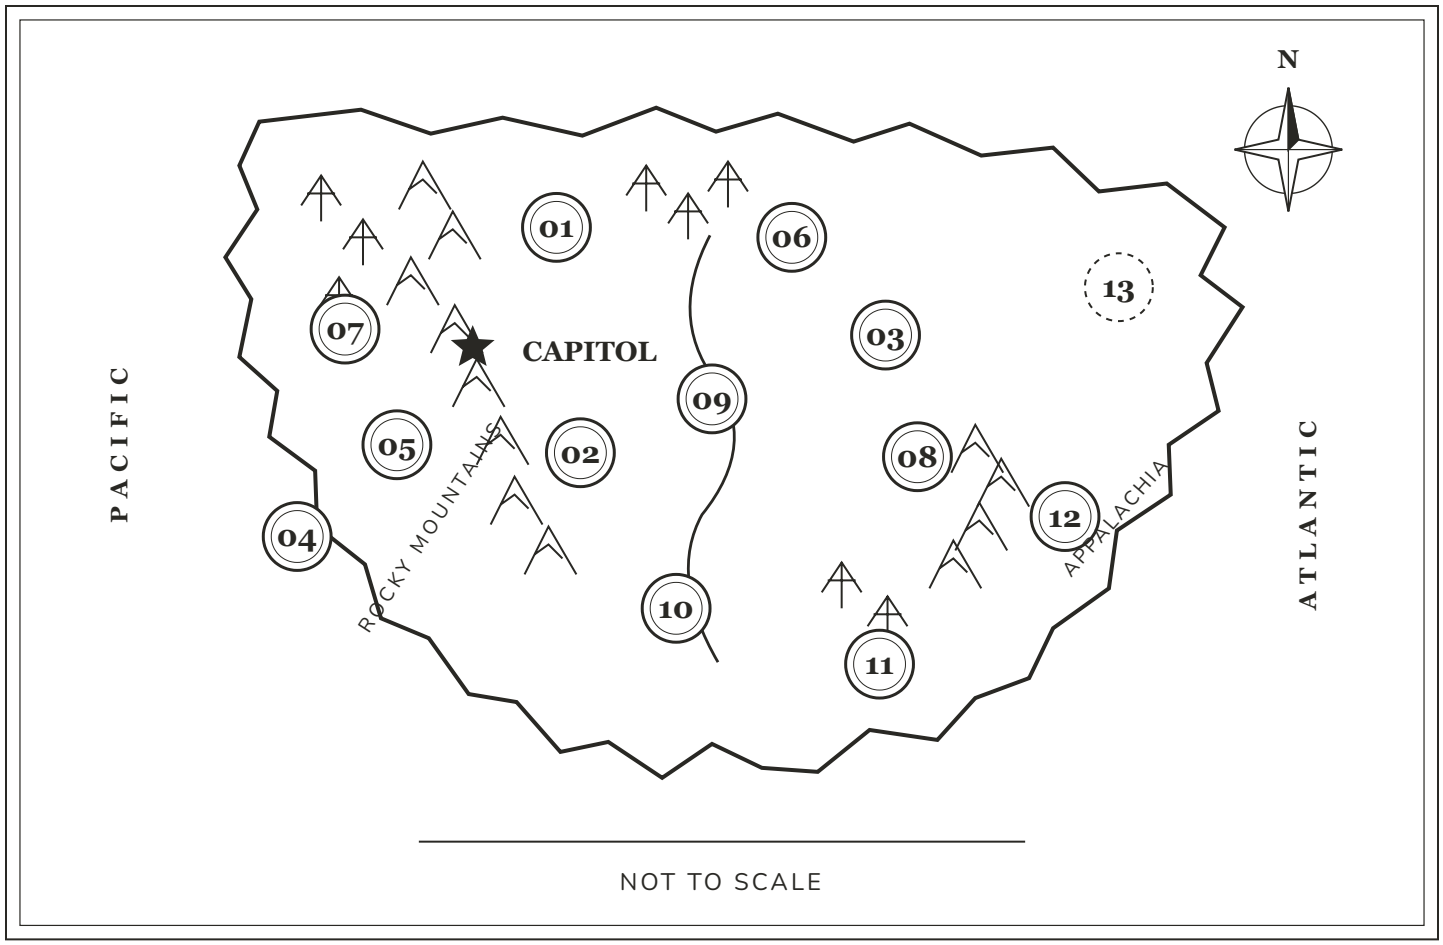

MAKE A TWO-SHEET WALL POSTER

Use the companion Panem-11x17-two-sheet-tiles.pdf: two landscape US Letter sheets. Print at Actual size / 100%, single-sided. Place sheet A above sheet B and join the paper edges; the assembled sheet is 11 × 17 inches.
Or print this master on 11 × 17 paper at 100%. Do not use “Fit”.

For a clean seam, use a borderless-capable printer. On a non-borderless printer, some artwork at the join may be unprinted; use a print shop for a continuous map.

Colour Your Panem

An ink-saver line map. Choose a colour for each district and fill the key.
District circles are markers, not borders. Not to scale.
